lectures, singing, and dancing to live music on Saturday night with our famous Chassidic Night Fever. A full, interactive children's program and babysitting will run concurrent to all programs & services.

We are pleased to have the world renowned lecturer, author and dynamic speaker, Rabbi Manis Friedman as our guest speaker throughout the Shabbaton. In addition, our very own Chabad Rabbis and their families will be joining us together with people from all walks of life, from across Long Island and beyond.

Our fabulous Shabbat weekend will take place in Connecticut, where the air is crisp and the atmosphere relaxing.

We'll savor fine wine and bask in the light of the candles and the Torah. We'll speak of living right and the right to live; of the secret of our survival; of love and marriage Kosher style; of tests and Talmud.

We warmly invite you to spend the weekend with us, where you can "taste and see" the beauty of Shabbat... an experience that will be ingrained in your mind and heart forever! We look forward to the pleasure of spending a beautiful Shabbat with you, and greeting you personally.

RABBI MANIS FRIEDMAN

Rabbi Friedman is one of today's most popular Jewish thinkers and speakers. With his warmth, wit, and wisdom, he has stirred the hearts and souls of thousands of Jews and Gentiles throughout the world. His profoundly deep and refreshingly unique vision of Torah and Chassidic thought enthuses each of his listeners and readers with a sense of purpose and definite direction. Rabbi Friedman is the author of the well-known book, "Doesn't Anyone Blush Anymore?" and hosts the critically acclaimed television series, "Torah Forum." He has been hailed by England's Oxford University as "one of the greatest social philosophers of contemporary America."
